Não prescreva este medicamento para mulheres com histórico de tromboembolismo venoso associado à gravidez ou ao uso de estrogênios exógenos, ou mesmo de causa desconhecida, a menos que estejam usando anticoagulantes. Categoria de risco na gravidez: X. Este medicamento não deve ser utilizado por mulheres grávidas ou que possam ficar grávidas durante o tratamento. Uso contraindicado no aleitamento ou na doação de leite humano; Este medicamento é contraindicado durante o aleitamento ou doação de leite, pois é excretado no leite humano e pode causar reações indesejáveis no bebê. Seu médico ou cirurgião-dentista deve apresentar alternativas para o seu tratamento ou para a alimentação do bebê. Advertências e Precauções: Distúrbios circulatórios: O uso de qualquer COC aumenta o risco de TEV em comparação com o não uso. O risco de TEV é mais alto no primeiro ano de uso do COC. Fatores de risco para TEV: O risco de complicações tromboembólicas venosas em usuárias de COCH pode aumentar substancialmente em uma mulher com fatores de risco adicionais, principalmente se houver múltiplos fatores de risco. Risco de TEA: Estudos epidemiológicos associaram o uso de COCs a um risco aumentado de tromboembolismo arterial (infarto do miocárdio ou acidente vascular cerebral). Fatores de risco para TEA: O risco de complicações tromboembólicas arteriais em usuárias de COC aumenta em mulheres com fatores de risco. Fumar aumenta o risco deste medicamento causar problemas no coração e vasos sanguíneos. Outras condições: Mulheres com hipertrigliceridemia ou histórico familiar, podem apresentar um risco aumentado de pancreatite ao usar COCs. Se desenvolver hipertensão clinicamente significativa durante o uso de um COC, é prudente que o médico suspenda a ingestão dos comprimidos e trate a hipertensão. Este medicamento pode causar hepatotoxicidade. Por isso, requer uso cuidadoso, sob vigilância médica estrita e acompanhado por controles periódicos da função hepática durante todo o tratamento. Mulheres diabéticas devem ser cuidadosamente observadas, principalmente no estágio inicial do uso de COC. Ocasionalmente, pode ocorrer cloasma, especialmente em mulheres com histórico de cloasma gravídico. Controle do ciclo: Como com todos os COCs, podem ocorrer sangramentos imprevistos (manchas ou sangramento de escape), especialmente durante os primeiros meses de uso. Gravidez e lactação: Nextelab® não é indicado durante a gravidez. Informe ao paciente que este medicamento não protege contra infecções sexualmente transmissíveis, recomendando o uso de preservativo sempre que for necessário. Atenção: Cada comprimido rosa deste medicamento contém 39,9 mg de lactose e cada comprimido branco contém 67,66 mg. Este medicamento não deve ser usado por pessoas com síndrome de má-absorção de glicose-galactose. Atenção: Contém lactose. Atenção: Contém os corantes dióxido de titânio e óxido de ferro vermelho que podem, eventualmente, causar reações alérgicas. Interações com medicamentos, alimentos e álcool: Podem ocorrer interações com medicamentos que induzem enzimas microssomais que podem resultar em aumento da depuração dos hormônios sexuais e que podem levar a ocorrência de sangramento irregular e/ou falha do anticoncepcional. Mulheres em tratamento com medicamentos indutores de enzimas devem utilizar temporariamente um método de barreira ou outro método anticoncepcional, além do COC. A drospirenona, progestagênio de Nextela®, é metabolizada pelas enzimas do citocromo P450. Substâncias que aumentam a depuração de COCs, por exemplo, barbitúricos, bosentan, carbamazepina, fenitoína, primidona, rifampicina e medicamentos para HIV como ritonavir, nevirapina e efavirenz e possivelmente também felbamato, griseofulvina, oxcarbazepina, topiramato e produtos ou preparações à base de plantas contendo erva-de-são-jão (Hypericum perforatum).
